

Argentina Finds Body of President

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The government announced today that the body of former President Pedro E. Aramburu, kidnapped May 29, has been found.

Rodolfo Baltierrez, the president's press secretary, called a predawn news conference to say that a decomposed body found by police buried in the basement of a farmhouse was that of 67-year-old Aramburu.

"The president has decreed a state funeral with military and civil honors corresponding to a president of a nation killed in the exercise of his duties," Baltierrez said.

Final identification was made early today by doctors who examined the body after it was brought to Buenos Aires from the village of Timote, 300 miles west of here, Baltierrez reported.

Doctors said the body of the once tall and elegantly dressed ex-president was so decomposed that identification could be made only on the basis of dental work, a birthmark, and the scar of an old operation.

Aramburu had been shot twice in the chest. His body was found Thursday by Buenos Aires Province police who raided a farm in Timote owned by the family of one of the 20 young men and women arrested in the case.

The official announcement of Aramburu's identification was delayed until a Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. Inaki de Aspiazu, advised Mrs. Aramburu and her two grown children. Father de Aspiazu later told newsmen Mrs. Aramburu had rejected the offer of a state funeral, preferring a small ceremony in a chapel near the Aramburu's downtown apartment home.

Long before the police made any arrests in the case, the kidnappers sent communiques from the underground identifying themselves as "Christians and Peronists"—followers of former President Juan D. Peron. They said they executed Aramburu on June 1 for his "crimes" while president.

The armed forces placed Gen. Aramburu in power in November 1955, six weeks after Peron was overthrown. Aramburu's 30-month regime was characterized by harsh repression of Peronists, including the execution of 27 Peronists who attempted a coup. He was a candidate to be president again when he disappeared.

The 20 young people arrested in the case are mostly university students from well-to-do families in Buenos Aires and Cordoba, the nation's automaking center.

Aramburu's disappearance on May 29 undermined what was left of public confidence in President Juan Carlos Ongania and the armed forces ousted him on June 8.

Out-State Students Sue on Tuition

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Five University of Arkansas students have filed suit in U.S. District Court here challenging an out-of-state fee added to the tuition of students who say they have established residence in Arkansas.

The suit challenges a university rule which provides that a person from out of state who enrolls as a student cannot later obtain status as a resident of Arkansas for educational purposes.

The suit is a class action on behalf of all students 21 and over who claim to have met the legal requirements to be residents of Arkansas.

All of the plaintiffs said they intend to live in Arkansas after graduation. All of them said they owned automobiles registered in Arkansas and filed income tax returns in Arkansas. All but one of the plaintiffs said they are registered to vote in Arkansas.

The plaintiffs are James E. Barr, Charles N. Williams, John A. Jones, George William Alexander and Mignon Gregg. All are law students except Gregg, who is enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

The university charges out-of-state students $265 a semester and resident students $150 a semester. About 20 per cent of the 11,000 students at the university last fall paid out-of-state tuition.

Nasser Winds Up 19 Days in Moscow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
President Gamal Abdel Nasser flew home from Moscow today after extended talks on the Middle East situation with the men in the Kremlin.

It was believed in Moscow that the Egyptian president and his hosts worked out their response to the new U.S. peace proposals for the Middle East. But no word of what they decided has leaked out.

Soviet military aid to Egypt also was certainly discussed. Nasser was in the Soviet capital for 19 days and is believed to have undergone a medical checkup during his stay. Results of this also have not been made public.

Meanwhile, a U.S. Air Force mission was winding up a two-day visit to Israel. The visit was described officially as a fact-finding tour, but disclosure of it heightened speculation that the Nixon administration is planning some sort of gesture as a partial counter to the growing Soviet involvement in Egypt.

There have been unconfirmed reports that ships of the U.S. 6th Fleet or a U.S. Air Force squadron might visit Israel to demonstrate American support for the Israelis.

The visiting mission is from the Air Force Strike Command and is headed by the command's deputy chief, Lt. Gen. James Edmundson. The U.S. Embassy said the mission is on a biennial study tour of the Middle East.

There was more military action on Israel's frontier with Lebanon, which Israeli troops crossed before dawn Thursday for a reprisal raid during which they blew up three buildings in a frontier village.

The Israeli military command in Tel Aviv said an army patrol killed four Arab guerrillas in a brief clash in the same area Thursday night. He said there were no Israeli casualties.

The command also reported that guerrillas in Lebanon fired mortars during the night at the frontier village of Metulla, in the northeast panhandle. There were no casualties or damage, the command said.

Today was the second anniversary of the coup that brought President Ahmed Hassan Al-Baghdad Radio said thousands of civilians watched a massive four-hour military parade through the Iraqi capital.

The broadcast said thousands paraded, singing, dancing, chanting anti-American slogans and carrying portraits of Al-Bakr, hailing him as "the leader of the Arab struggle."

The president said in a policy statement Thursday night that Iraq's defense budget has risen by more than $300 million since the 1967 Middle East war. He called for an intensified confrontation with Israel on all fronts.

2nd-Night Winners in Beauty Show

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Miss Arkansas A&M College and Miss Rogers were winners Thursday in the second night of preliminary competition in the Miss Arkansas Pageant here.

Miss Rogers, Barbara Jo Musholt, 21, was the talent winner and Miss Arkansas A&M, Nancy Kay Benson, 18, of Hampton, was the winner in the swimsuit division. Miss Musholt's talent was a comedy monologue.

Susan Jane Toler, Miss Henderson State College, and Martha Patricia Gideon, Miss University of Arkansas, were named preliminary winners Wednesday night.

Preliminary competition will continue tonight and the finals will be Saturday.

Candidates Agree on City Crisis

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — All 10 of the 13 gubernatorial candidates that spoke Thursday to the officers and the legislative committee of the Arkansas Municipal League promised to help solve the financial problems of the state's cities and towns.

Six of the candidates took a stand in favor of the proposed new constitution, three said they will not take a position and W. S. Cheek of West Memphis restated his opposition to the proposed charter.

Those who appeared at the meeting were Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, former Gov. Orval Faubus, Hayes McClerkin, Robert Compton, Cheek, Dale Bumpers, Joe Purcell, Bill Wells, James Malone Jr. and James "Uncle Mac" MacKrell.

McClerkin told the league that taxes for local revenue should be collected on a county-wide level and should encompass local school taxes. He said more turnback from general revenue collected on the state level would just accentuate the problem of limited funds in local government.

Faubus suggested that one way smaller towns could save the taxpayer money and at the same time obtain more rapid street repair would be to work out an agreement with the state Highway Department. He said department crews could do the work and the city would pay for the material, labor and depreciation on the equipment.

Wells told the league that he thought the best approach for getting more funds for cities should be to increase the percentage of general revenue

2nd Fugitive Is Captured

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Pine Bluff police have captured the second of two men who escaped from the Ouachita County jail at Camden May 24.

Officials said police apprehended Fred B. Chamberlain, 24, of Pine Bluff here Thursday.

Chamberlain and Lyndale W. Walker, 24, of Chidester (Ouachita County) escaped from the jail by cutting their way out with hacksaws. Walker was captured by Ouachita officials several days after the escape.

Chamberlain was awaiting transfer to the state prison to begin serving a 10-year sentence for burglary and grand larceny when he made his escape.

turnback from the state.

Rockefeller reviewed his record as governor and said he had done everything he could to assist municipalities in obtaining federal grants.

Compton said cities should have a fixed percentage of general revenue and he said the 2 per cent they were presently getting was not enough.

Malone said the cities should have a greater share of general revenue but he didn't commit himself to a figure.

Cheek said the cities needed more money and he would favor legislation that would allow municipalities to levy more taxes.

Army Trial for Overseas Acts Disputed

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — An appeal to the Supreme Court challenges the power of U.S. military courts to try servicemen for crimes committed overseas.

The appeal was filed late Thursday by lawyers for Robert G. Gallagher of Philadelphia, a former soldier found guilty in a military court in Germany of robbing and assaulting a German civilian.

Gallagher's argument is that military courts do not have jurisdiction over crimes committed by servicemen in peacetime and off-duty.

The outcome could affect about 500,000 American military men serving in 99 countries. The more than 400,000 U.S. troops in Vietnam presumably would still be subject to court-martial although there has been no declaration of war.

The appeal seeks to expand a decision by the Supreme Court a year ago that a soldier in Hawaii should have been turned over to civilian courts for trial on charges of assaulting a young girl in a hotel room.

The argument failed last April in the U.S. Court of Claims, which rejected a bid by Gallagher for $1,800 in lost pay. The claims court ruling, the first direct decision on the issue, drew a critical distinction between Hawaii, which is part of the United States, and foreign countries.

Under agreements between the United States and some nations, including Germany, the American military has legal jurisdiction in some criminal cases involving U.S. troops.

If American servicemen overseas were not subject to court-martial for civilian crimes they would be tried in the foreign countries' courts in most instances.

The claims court said Bill of Rights protections would be withdrawn from the soldiers, sailors and airmen and they could be exposed to "harsh laws and savagely operated penal institutions."

The Supreme Court already has agreed to hear next term the argument that military courts have no jurisdiction over servicemen charged with committing such civilian crimes as rape on stateside bases.

Gallagher was court-martialed on charges of assaulting and robbing a German civilian while on leave in Bad Nauheim. He was sentenced to a bad-conduct discharge, a year in military prison for forfeiture of all pay.

After nine months in prison he was able to earn restoration to duty and then an honorable discharge instead of the bad-conduct discharge.

Then, the President promised "to get out of sight" himself "so you can feel completely at home with young people while you are here."

Tricia, Julie and David invited 15 young friends and three relatives from around the country to attend the informal Camp David barbecue with their royal guests. They all dressed in slacks and flew to the Maryland mountain retreat in two of the President's helicopters, with Prince Charles riding in the President's seat.

The White House planned a menu including hot dogs, hamburgers and steaks, reporting later everyone preferred steak.

Before dinner David and the prince rode bikes, did their skeet shooting and took a swim in the pool.

Along with some of the other guests, the prince and princess came back wearing Camp David souvenir navy blue windbreakers emblazoned with the presidential seal.

One of the guests, C. Gregg Petersmeyer of Arlington, Va., a summer interne at the White House, reported afterwards "the prince is very charming" and it was "a great party, everybody got along just great."

Group Wants New Judge in Hawkins Case

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Seven of the 13 Conway County residents who filed the taxpayers' suit against Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins planned to file three requests with the state Supreme Court today concerning handling of the case.

The Supreme Court two weeks ago ruled that the sheriff could be made to account for the cash bonds that passed through his hands back to 1954, but excluded many of the records that those bringing suit planned to use as evidence.

The group said its lawyers, Richard S. Arnold of Texarkana and Oscar Fendler of Blytheville, would ask the court to appoint a new judge, hold the trial at Little Rock instead of Morrilton and take steps to safeguard the records to be used in the case.

The Supreme Court upheld a ruling that Hawkins had failed to account for $7,893.26 that he received as cash bonds from traffic law violators from 1963-66.

SAMs. Reports reaching the Pentagon say the Redeye-type missiles were fired during Israeli strikes on SAM-2 sites.

Their apparent purpose is to help protect SAM-2s from knockout, U.S. sources said, but so far as is known they haven't hit any attacking jets.

The Redeye, as used by the U.S. Army and Marine Corps is small enough to be fired by a soldier. It looks something like the old tank-killing bazooka.

The weapon gets its name from an infra-red sensor mounted in its nose.

The Israeli air force has lost three fighters since June 30 to improved SAM-2s on the Egyptian side of the Suez Canal.

To maintain the precarious military balance in the face of growing Soviet arms support to the Egyptians, U.S. authorities reportedly have decided to replace Israeli combat losses of F-4 Phantom fighters, and to furnish the Israelis some radar-jamming equipment in an effort to foil the SAMs.

Recapture Mountain Resort

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS
Associated Press Writer

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Cambodian army troops reoccupied the mountain resort of Kiri Rom Thursday after the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese pulled out, but new fighting was reported today 21 miles north of Phnom Penh at the Long Vek munitions depot.

The Cambodian military spokesman said about 300 Communist reinforcements had moved into the Long Vek area. He said fighting there began Thursday and continued this morning, but he had no details. Long Vek was under siege for a week last month, and the government said it cleared out the arsenal when enemy forces began a buildup in the area several weeks ago. Attacks on it have continued, although the enemy objective is not clear.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese withdrew from the Kiri Rom plateau 50 miles west of Phnom Penh after six days of fighting in which they inflicted heavy casualties on the Cambodians. As they went, the Cambodian spokesman reported, they burned the holiday villa of Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the deposed chief of state, and other buildings.

The enemy force that overran

Friday, July 17, 1970

Kiri Rom last Saturday had been estimated at 1,000 men, and the government mustered between 1,500 and 2,000 troops to retake it. But it appeared that the enemy abandoned the little resort town before the Cambodians could close in.

It was believed the enemy force withdrew westward along the Cardamom mountain chain which has long been under the control of Communist forces. The Kiri Rom plateau is at the southeast end of the range.

Meanwhile, South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu flew to Neak Luong, in Cambodia 35 miles southeast of Phnom Penh, to visit South Vietnamese troops there and to talk joint strategy with Cambodian Premier Lon Nol. It was their first meeting.

Tight security was in effect during the meeting. The Neak Luong ferry and other traffic on the Mekong River were halted, and Cambodian and South Vietnamese navy boats patrolled the river. Hundreds of troops guarded the frequently dangerous road from Phnom Penh to the ferry crossing. A large number of fighter and observation planes patrolled overhead.

Thieu returned to Saigon by helicopter early in the afternoon.

The Lady Does Stunts for Movies

By BILL KOSMAN
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Like hundreds of pretty girls in this film capital, Julie Ann Johnson lives to become a movie actress. But to reach her goal she takes bumps, bruises and big chances.

The slender, delicate-looking brunette is a movie stuntwoman. She believes that doing risky scenes actress don't perform is her only chance to make it as an actress herself.

In her six years on the job, Julie, 29, has crashed through windows, rolled downhill backwards in a wheel chair and dangled by a rope ladder from a helicopter above a mountain. Her favorite is fight scenes.

She has been lucky, suffering only bruises, scratches and sore muscles. Her closest call was when she blacked out momentarily after being kicked in the head by a horse, that slid on ice. Why take such risks?

"There's really no other way for me because I do have the talent for stunt work," she says. She feels she learns from top stars by working with them. "And when acting jobs come up, I'll have this experience as a stuntwoman. It's a constant education."

Stuntwork is well paid. Although stunt people negotiate the price of each stunt with film makers, there are common prices. Jerry Christopher, business representative for the Screen Actors Guild, says pay for stuntwomen runs from $50 for things like a motorcycle ride all the way up to $5,000 for something like walking on the wing of an airplane.

Julie explains that almost all stuntwomen—and there are about 20 in Hollywood—either come from stunt families or took part in rodeos. She says she had neither of these advantages.

But she had another advantage: a background in sports, which she calls invaluable. Her father, Art Johnson, has been a junior high school coach for 33 years; her grandfather, former Detroit Tigers outfielder Sam Crawford, is in the Baseball Hall of Fame; and she was a prize-winning athlete at Fullerton, Calif., Union High School.

Her break into the stunt field came when she was working as a production coordinator for a firm making television commercials and it needed somebody to jump over an ironing board. She made the jump, and then started getting calls for other stunts.

Julie admits that the current emphasis on fewer action scenes in movies and television has eliminated a lot of jobs. Nevertheless, she says, "It's a very lucrative business."

Other stunts. "Migrant," an NBC documentary shown Thursday night, exposed the other side of affluent America and it was neither as pleasant nor an encouraging view. As Chet Huntley pointed out, conditions have improved little since the late Edward R. Murrow's "Harvest of Shame" was shown on CBS 10 years ago.

The camera was adept at capturing the defeated attitude of the migrants, who are America's lowest-paid and least-protected workers. One 15-year-old boy, already at work in the fields, said he would not return to school for "nothing" because his classmates made him feel like a "bum." He said, trying to hold back the tears, "I guess I am a bum. I don't have the things other people have."

This documentary was filmed in Florida, although it was noted that similar instances of poor housing and low wages exist in

Priests Shun Old Clerical Garb

NEW YORK (AP) — When a bishop urged the spring meeting of the nation's Roman Catholic Bishops to reassert the rule requiring priests to wear clerical dress, the proposal was simply bypassed in silence.

"There was no reaction expressed at all," Archbishop Philip M. Hannan of New Orleans says of the closed meeting.

The situation apparently was past the point of even discussing it. In fact, the old rule of Catholic clerical garb is so commonly disregarded by many American priests today that it goes scarcely noticed.

"It's cooler, man," said the Rev. Thomas Stransky, the new head of the Paulist Fathers, clad in blue sports shirt and casual slacks at a recent interdenominational meeting in Buck Hill Falls, Pa.

At virtually any religious gathering these days in which Roman Catholic priests take part, there are nearly always some of them in various kinds of lay dress, ranging from turtle-neck knit shirts to string ties.

The sartorial switch for many Catholic clergy in public and in the classroom has come about swiftly but with little mention of it in the last few years, along with relaxed modes of habits for nuns.

Until the late 1960's, the public apparel of the Catholic clergy in this country was almost invariably uniform—a black suit and Roman collar.

"Give the collar back to the Romans," writes the Rev. John L. McKenzie, a noted Catholic Biblical scholar, in a recent article in the Critic lampooning the past fixed form of clergy dress.

He says he now prefers a plain suit and ties from Lyton's. "I found the best way to handle the stares is to stare right back," he adds. "But even then I wondered why the work of God should engage one in a duel of stares."

Clerical garb, he says, contributes nothing to service of Christ, but it does "establish an unwanted and useless gulf" between priests and laity, isolating them from one another. He says this is a "net loss" and part of the present clergy "crisis of relevance."

"Nothing in the New Testament indicates there was any difference in dress, status and manner of life" of ministers and people, he says, "but the modern priest does not have this community with those to whom he must speak."

Defenders of clerical garb insist it provides a tangible symbol of faith in an increasingly secular world. But critics say it also can be a mark of special privilege and sanctimony that detracts from a man's real humanity.

In the sanctuary, priests still adhere to the prescribed vestments. But in other activities, such as academic functions, theological conferences and social gatherings, some are apt to show up in mufti.

Actuary, Like Scout, Must Be Prepared

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Few people have more money riding on their decisions than the 3,544 fellows and associates of the Society of Actuaries, the men and women whose decisions commit $200 billion of life insurance assets for decades ahead.

These days that can mean sweaty palms on the hands that do the figuring, because company expenses aren't entirely predictable in an unstable economy and there is no assurance that interest rates won't drop precipitously.

Those are two of the three major factors that the life insurance actuaries must worry about. The third, mortality, has nearly settled on a plateau and may show only small but steady gains until another medical triumph is achieved.

If the actuary is employed by a health insurer he must deal with another factor, morbidity, or the relative incidence of disease. And always, no matter where he works he must not forget that his slightest miscalculation can have enormous financial repercussions when multiplied by millions of people and scores of years.

"I think of myself as something of a cross between an engineer and a financial officer," explains George Shelley, a fellow of the Society of Actuaries.

CARRYING SECURITY TOO FAR?

Dear Helen: Don't get me wrong. I'm all for store security, but this is too much!

I work for a large branch department store. Yesterday the security guard picked out four men at random, took them to a room and made them undress. This was also done to four women by a woman guard.

Helen, these people weren't suspected of theft—they were made an example to show other employees they couldn't get away with anything. I was one of them!

This morning I got a raise and promotion, so you can see I'm not considered dishonest.

Helen, how can our world ever achieve peace when the very ingredient of trust in your fellow man is missing? —JOE

Dear Joe: Counter question: How can YOU ever achieve dignity working for an outfit like this? Spend your off-hours looking for another job. —H.

Dear Helen: Would you please do me a favor and print my letter? It's the only way I can contact "the girls in the 'Bug'."

You see, I am a school crossing guard who enjoys her work. On the last day of school, I realized how much it meant to me. A certain young lady passed me every day in her little car, on her way to high school with her friends. I've enjoyed their "beep-beep" and cherry "Hi!" I can't express how touched I was, when on the last day, they stopped and gave me a bouquet of carnations with a card wishing me a nice summer, stating they won't be "bugging" me any more.

So, this is to those girls in the Volkswagen bug, whose names I don't know. "Dear Girls: May I ALWAYS be 'bugged' by lovely young ladies like you!" —JOAN K. GREENLEAF low of the society. "We develop and price a product, but we also have to keep an eye out for the financial impact on the organization."

Like a boy scout, the actuaries must always be prepared. This they do with great stores of numerical information that they blend with statistical formulas and mathematical probabilities to calculate premiums, dividends and cash reserves.

Since nobody knows the future that well, even though a lot of variables seem to average out, the actuaries must build in enough margin to compensate for error. Being human, they sometimes err—monumentally.

Back in the early 1930s, for example, many companies began writing total and permanent disability insurance. The high employment days of the 1920s were used in calculating a base. Then came the depression and unemployment rose.

A lot of idle and desperate men and women scrutinized their policies then, and the companies were flooded with claims they never thought would be classed as total and permanent. But the courts were ruling liberally.

"It was a disaster," said Morton Miller, vice president and chief actuary of Equitable Life. "It was a debacle of momentous proportions."

The siege of Troy lasted 11 years, according to legend.

father had "snooped." We never open each other's personal mail, but we figure we have a right in this instance, as we are paying his tuition. Your opinion? —MRS. S.

Dear Mrs. S. A fellow has the right to open his mail first, but you have a right to see his grades. Your husband's timing was wrong, and your son being just a little picky. —H.

Twins Downed by Orioles Due to Errors

Fights

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Baltimore-Minnesota game was a clash between the American League's division leaders, but to the Twins, it was all a mistake. In fact, it was a lot of mistakes.

The Twins made throwing errors and catching errors along with some faulty baserunning to bungle their way to a 5-1 loss to the Orioles in Baltimore.

"Those three days off sorta slowed us down a bit it seems," drawled Manager Bill Rigney, referring to the All-Star break. The Twins had won six of eight games before the three-day rest.

The outcome left the Orioles six games ahead of Detroit in the East after the Tigers out-slugged the Chicago White Sox 11-6, and cut Minnesota's lead in the West to four games over California, which nipped Washington 3-2.

In the only other night game, Cleveland blanked Kansas City 6-0. In day games, Boston edged Milwaukee 6-5 in 10 innings and Oakland clobbered the New York Yankees 8-2 before losing 4-1 in a doubleheader.

In the National League, Cincinnati stopped Pittsburgh 3-2, Atlanta hammered St. Louis 7-3, Houston trimmed the Chicago Cubs 2-1, Los Angeles downed the New York Mets 3-1 and Philadelphia outthit San Diego 10-7 in the only games scheduled.

The Twins' problems began in the first inning when they had one runner thrown out at the plate and then gave Baltimore a run on George Mitterwald's two out passed ball.

Two innings later, the Orioles made it 2-0 when Paul Blair scored from third base on a very short sacrifice fly. Left fielder Bob Allison caught the ball only 20 yards beyond the infield and then dribbled a throw to the plate that hit Blair on the bounce about 10 feet from home.

Harmon Killebrew managed to get one run back for the Twins in the sixth off Mike Cuellar with his 27th homer, but the Twins booed themselves out of the tying run and perhaps more.

A walk and Rich Reese's single put runners on first and third with two out when Mitterwald hit a shot that bounced off third baseman Robinson's chest. But he recovered and still got his man in plenty of time when Mitterwald fell leaving the plate.

After Boog Powell opened the Baltimore sixth with his 24th homer and Robinson walked, Dick Woodson relieved loser Tom Hall and quickly threw away a sacrifice bunt. Andy Etchebarren followed with a wrapup two-run double. Killebrew followed that by booting a grounder, but the Orioles were finished scoring—and the Twins were finished.

Detroit won a slugging duel, outthitting the White Sox 18-12 and out-homering them 4-2. It was the most Tiger hits in a game since June 1967.

California overcame Washington homers by Aurelio Rodriguez and Lee Maye with Jim Fregosi's run-scoring single and Earl Voss' sacrifice fly, and then won in the ninth.

Tom Egan doubled with one out and Chico Ruiz ran for him. An infield hit got him to third and then Sandy Alomar bunted and Ruiz beat the throw to the plate.

Rookie Rich Hand, 3-8, pitched Cleveland to victory with a four-hitter and the Indians, without a hit for four innings, bombed Jim Rooker for five runs in the fifth.

Boston also won a home run duel on George Scott's sacrifice fly in the 10th with the bases loaded and none out against a two-man outfield—Milwaukee manager Dave Bristol moved left fielder Tommie Harper in as another infielder.

Harper had tied the game in the ninth with a two-out, two-on homer, the Brewers' third homer. Boston also had three, including two by Billy Conigliaro.

Pete Ward, starting only his fourth game, doubled and singled for three runs to give the

Gold and Glory on the Line in Saturday Race

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Gold and glory in big chunks is on the line in horse racing Saturday.

The $162,300 Hollywood Juvenile Championship at Hollywood Park and the $116,400 Armory L. Haskell Handicap at Monmouth Park top the thoroughbred program. In harness racing, it's the $125,000 Roosevelt International Trot at Roosevelt Raceway.

Then there's the $50,000 Sheephead Bay Handicap at Aqueduct, the $50,000 Washington Park Handicap at Arlington Park and the $30,000 Lake Huron Handicap at Detroit.

In addition, there are three $25,000-added races, the Rosemont Stakes at Delaware, the Schuylkill Stakes at Liberty Bell and the Getaway Day Special at Tropical Park and the customary allowance purse at Lincoln Downs and it all adds up to $625,700 up for grabs.

Unbeaten Moonplash heads a probable field of 13 in the Hollywood Juvenile. Other likely starters include Vested Power, Kelly's Cap and Fast Fellow.

My Dad George, runner-up in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, is expected to start in the Haskell under 115 pounds in an effort to become the first 3-year-old to win the race since 1959.

Other Haskell probabilities include Hydrologist, Verbatim, War Censor, Beau Brummel, Gallant Moment, Gleaming Sword, Charles Elliott and Hitchcock.

Un de Mai, the defending champion from France, is favored to win the Roosevelt International Trot against a field that includes Dayan, the second choice, representing the United States, and Fresh Yankee of Canada.

Shuvee, an outstanding 3-year-old filly in 1969, is expected to make her first start over the grass course in the Sheephead Bay in a probable field of 10. Hilarious, the top weight at 125 pounds, heads the probabilities for the Washington Park.

Dark followed former manager Dick Williams and Eddie Stanky on the stand Thursday to dispute Cronin's evaluation of umpires Al Salerno and Bill Valentine, fired in 1968 for alleged incompetency.

"They had the courage to do what they thought was right," Dark said at a National Labor Relations Board hearing on an unfair labor practice suit.

Yankees their split behind Stan Bahnsen's four-hitter.

The A's used six unearned runs, a two-run homer by Frank Fernandez and Reggie Jackson's two-run single to win the opener.

Pirates Debut Spoiled by Red's Victory

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tony Perez hit a fly ball that was an easy out in Forbes Field. The trouble for the Pittsburgh Pirates, was the game wasn't being played in Forbes Field.

"That ball was an easy out in Forbes Field," Perez said of the two-run homer that he hit in Thursday night's Cincinnati's 3-2 victory that spoiled the Pirates' debut in Pittsburgh's new Three Rivers Stadium.

Perez' belt, his 30th homer of the season, probably would have been caught in spacious Forbes Field but it cleared the 410 mark in center field, the deepest point of the new park, and put the Reds ahead 2-1.

Perez also figured in the winning run for the Reds, the runaway leaders in the National League West, when he singled and scored on Lee May's single in the ninth.

Despite the loss, the Pirates kept their 1½-game lead in the NL East when the runnerup New York Mets were edged 3-1 by Los Angeles.

Atlanta topped St. Louis 7-3, Houston nipped the Chicago Cubs 2-1 and Philadelphia outslugged San Diego 10-7 in other NL action. San Francisco and Montreal were not scheduled.

In the American League, Detroit walloped the Chicago White Sox 11-6, Cleveland blanked Kansas City 6-0, Baltimore took Minnesota 5-1, California shaded Washington 3-2, Boston nipped Milwaukee 6-5 in 10 innings and Oakland tripped New York 8-2 before the Yankees came back to win 4-1 in a doubleheader.

With a crowd of 48,846, largest ever to see a baseball game in Pittsburgh, watching, the Pirates jumped to a 1-0 lead in the first inning on Richie Hebner's single and Al Oliver's double.

Then after Perez hit his Forbes Field out in the fifth to give the Reds the lead, Willie Stargell slammed his 17th homer into the upper deck in right field in the sixth to tie it.

Stargell got $1,000 from a local lumber dealer for being the first Pirate to homer in the new stadium.

Bill Grabarkewitz' led off the eighth with a homer to give Los Angeles a 2-1 lead. The Dodgers also got another run in the inning on a single by Jim Lefebvre that drove in Manny Mota, who also singled. Grabarkewitz now has won games with six of his 10 homers.

The Mets, who have lost four in a row, had tied it 1-1 in the seventh on Cleon Jones' third homer. Wes Parker's sacrifice fly scored Grabarkewitz, who had walked, for the Dodgers opening run in the first inning.

A five-run seventh inning, keyed by Felix Millan's two-run single, helped Atlanta send the Cardinals to their eighth straight loss. Clete Boyer homered for Atlanta.

A throwing error by the Cubs' Glenn Beckert opened the door for Houston's two runs in the second inning. Jesus Alou drove in one with a sacrifice fly, and Jim Wynn singled home the other. Don Wilson made the lead stand up with relief help from Jim Ray in the ninth, when John Callison singled in the Chicago run.

Byron Brown's bases-loaded homer in the ninth boosted the Phillies over San Diego. San Diego had taken a 7-5 lead in the seventh on Dave Campbell's homer. Clarence Gaston's triple and Ollie Brown's RBI single.

Brown also hit a three-run homer in the first when San Diego rallied to tie the game 4-4.

Williams, former manager of the Boston Red Sox, and Stanky, one-time fiery field boss of the Chicago White Sox, testified Wednesday, the two fired umpires were "very capable" and "very competent."

John (Red) Flaherty, an American League umpire since 1953, also testified on behalf of his two former colleagues.

U.S. Runners Defeated in German Meet

STUTTGART, Germany (AP) — It was on to Leningrad today for America's touring track and field team.

The United States was defeated in over-all point standings Thursday after the end of a two-night meet with West Germany. The hosts won 182-175, mainly on the strength of their women athletes.

The American men, however, won 122-100 with a U.S. record clocking by Ken Swenson, a 22-year-old blond from Kansas State, in the 800 meters highlighting their victory.

The West German women won 82-53 but American Coach Ed Temple said his squad faced "a great German team that had to set West German records in many events to beat us."

Leroy Walker, coach of the American men, was elated by his team's victory, saying it resulted from "the swing events going in our favor."

He said eight Americans recorded lifetime bests—sprinter Ben Vaughan in the 100 and 200 meters, Willie Turner in the 200 meters, Swenson and Mark Wenzel in the 800 meters, Bill Skinner in the javelin, Tim Vollmer in the discus, Norm Tate in the triple jump and Dave Roman-sky in the 10,000-meter walk.

Walker was particularly pleased by Swenson's crucial 800-meter triumph and explained, "We wanted to run a fast quarter and break up any possible German 1-2 finish."

Looking ahead to the meet in Leningrad next week against the Soviet Union, Walker said, "If my information about the Russian team is as accurate as was my information about the German team, I think we have an excellent chance."

He said that both the French and German teams "have given us very fine competition and we expect more of the same from the Soviets."

Arkansas 3-2 Over Dallas-Fort Worth

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Relief pitcher Vaughn Kovach entered the game in the seventh inning and threw eight straight balls Thursday night, walking in the winning run for the Arkansas Travelers' 3-2 Texas League victory over Dallas-Fort Worth.

Spurs' righthander Randy Cohen had the Travelers blanked on three singles until newly arrived infielder Quique Rivera tripled in a run and scored another in the seventh.

Cohen gave up two singles and departed for Kovach.

The Spurs threatened constantly but two double plays and six strikeouts limited them to two runs. George Winslow, who scored the winning run, was the winning pitcher.

The Memphis Blues took a 4-3 opener from El Paso Thursday night but the Sun Kings grabbed the nightcap of the doubleheader 2-0.

In other league action, Shreveport shutout Albuquerque in both games of a doubleheader by scores of 6-0 and 4-0. In a single game, Amarillo routed San Antonio 10-3.

Nastase, who ousted Pancho Guzman 6-2, 6-2, Wednesday, meets Hewitt, who had some trouble with ninth-ranked Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., 6-4, 5-7, 6-1.

Ashe Wins in Clay Court Tennis Game

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur Ashe, not known especially for his clay court game, doesn't have an explanation for his easy victories thus far in the Washington Star International Tennis Tournament.

"I don't know the reason," said Ashe, the second-ranked U.S. player and third seeded here. "I guess they think they have to be exceptional to beat me ... And they don't."

Ashe made his comments Thursday after he defeated Jaime Fillol of Chile 6-2, 6-2, to advance to today's quarterfinal round.

"He didn't play as well as he can on clay," said Ashe. "I've just tried to keep the ball on the court this week. That's all."

Ashe defeated Ian Crookenden now a teaching pro but a teammate and doubles partner at UCLA, 6-1, 6-1, Monday in the first round and then ousted Onny Parum of New Zealand 6-4, 6-3 Wednesday before taking on Fillol.

By the luck of the draw, Ashe and Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., America's top-ranked player and the No. 2 seed here, fell into a bracket which does not have the best of the clay court artists going into the quarter-final round.

Ashe meets Dick Crealy of Australia, a serve and volley player like himself, in today's matches while Smith meets the best base-line player in the lower bracket—Ion Tiriac of Rumania.

In the top bracket, three of the players are clay-court specialists and the fourth plays a fair game.

Ilie Nastase of Rumania, the top-seed here, Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., fourth seed, and Georges Goven of France, fifth seed, play their best games on clay. Eighth-seeded Bob Hewitt of South Africa is known to play a fair clay court game.

Nastase, who ousted Pancho Guzman 6-2, 6-2, Wednesday, meets Hewitt, who had some trouble with ninth-ranked Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., 6-4, 5-7, 6-1.

Joe Namath in Movie; Will Report Late for Jets Training Camp

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hollywood Joe Namath will be late reporting to the New York Jets' preseason training camp. But it's okay. He's got permission from Weeb Ewbank, head coach and general manager of the Jets.

It could be a moot point, however. The Jets are scheduled to open camp for veterans on Sunday. But the prolonged dispute between National Football League owners and players is likely to delay it.

The stalemate between the owners and the negotiators of the NFL Players Association continued today, with no talks scheduled. The owners have barred veterans from the training camps of the 26 NFL teams and the NFLPA has told the vets not to report any way.

Jet veterans are due to report Sunday to the team's Long Island camp but Namath got Ewbank's approval to report July 26. The star quarterback, who's been making motion pictures all spring and summer, will be in Hollywood.

"He has to go to California for Laver Calm, Cool After Tennis Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Rod Laver was calm, cool and collected today. He wasn't a bit nervous. Having a check for $35,000 in your wallet has a soothing effect.

It was different Thursday night before he swept Ken Rosewall, his Australian countryman, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3, in the $50,000 final of the $200,000 Tennis Champions Classic at Madison Square Garden.

Rosewall got the loser's share of $15,000 in this richest tennis match ever.

"I was edgy walking on the court," said Laver who now lives in Corona Del Mar, Calif. "I always felt that I play better when I am nervous."

"I like to be nervous," continued the 32-year-old left-hander who has accomplished two tennis grand slams. "The adrenalin flows. I find I watch the ball more closely."

Laver was upset in this year's Wimbledon championships by Roger Taylor, but Rod said, "I didn't have a nerve in my body when I went out to play Taylor. Maybe that was the trouble."

The $50,000 final before a turnout of 10,292 was an 85-minute duel between two artists, but Rosewall's touch was missing.

He was behind in nine of his first 11 service games, lost five of them and lost seven games in a row as Laver went to a 3-0 lead in the third set after losing service to trail 3-2 in the second set.

"There was an extreme amount of pressure in the first set," Laver said. "Ken was shaky and I was, too. I was pushing and he didn't take advantage. If I had lost that set, it could have been reversed."

SPORT SHORTS
NEW YORK (AP) — Ken Rosewall and Rod Laver met tonight at Madison Square Garden in a best-of-5 match in the $50,000 final of the Tennis Champions Classic.

The leading figure in the African challenge, Kip Keino of Kenya, who won the mile and the three miles in Jamaica, will be going for the 1,500-meter and the 5,000-meter medals this time.

The 1,500-meter final is scheduled next Wednesday.

Track, Field in Metric Distances

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — The track and field events of the Commonwealth Games start today with the African countries making their strongest challenge in the 40-year history of the event.

For the first time, the track events are being run over metric distances.

Weather Stops America Cup Observations

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Racing in the America's cup observation trials was called off Thursday because of bad weather in the Newport area.

The cancellation was announced by the New York Yacht Club race committee shortly after noon when the crews of the four competing yachts had been on standby for about two hours. Devereux Barker, chairman of the race committee, said the forecast of severe thunder squalls in the afternoon associated with the passage of a weather front had prompted the decision to call the races off.

The committee said that Heritage will meet Intrepid in the first race Friday, and Weatherly will go against Valiant.

The committee also announced that Valiant's protest against Intrepid filed after Tuesday's race had been disallowed.

The two skippers, Bill Ficker of Intrepid, and Bob McCullough of Valiant, have been told not to discuss the protest with anyone. But it is known that the incident which led to the protest being filed occurred just before the start when the two yachts were overlapped going to the starting line. The verdict left Intrepid with a clean record for the July trials scheduled to end on Saturday.

Intrepid has an 8-0 record for the series. Weatherly, the 1962 cup defender, is 3-4, Valiant is 3-5, and Heritage, the first Southern boat to compete in the trials, is 1-6.

Two Star Golfers Leave Golf Classic in Philadelphia

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jack Nicklaus was "just too tired to coordinate" and Lee Trevino, the Merry Mexican who leads the year's PGA money winnings, missed one-putts because he couldn't concentrate.

So, the two stars got permission to withdraw from the $150,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic after Thursday's first round, led by Bob Murphy, Don Massengale and Labron Harris.

Murphy, who hasn't won since 1968; Massengale, a non-winner since 1966; and Harris, a six-year tour veteran still looking for his first triumph, each carded five-under-par 67s over the 6,615-yard Whitemarsh Country Club course.

They held a one-stroke advantage over defending champion Dave Hill, Masters champ Billy Casper, Art Wall, Dick Ryan, and Charles Coody.

Trevino shot a one-under 71 while Nicklaus carded a 74. Both were excused by the sponsor.

Trevino left for El Paso, Tex. "It's something that came up while my wife and I were in Europe the last few weeks," Trevino said.

Cutback on Coal Research Stirs Storm

By JOHN S. LANG
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interior Undersecretary Fred J. Russell sent the Budget Bureau a memo outlining a $40 million cutback in coal research, then denied recommending the reduction. Now he says expanded versions of the memo circulating in Congress are counterfeit.

Coal state congressmen and coal industry groups have been fuming at the memo's proposal to abolish the office of Coal Research and limit research programs in the Bureau of Mines to environmental quality.

In response to the outcry, Russell told them he had not made such recommendations. He repeated in a telephone interview: "No, I did not write budget director (Robert) Mayo recommending those eliminations. That is absolutely misinformation altogether."

Shown a copy of the memo at a subsequent interview, Russell acknowledged sending it. He explained his earlier denial by saying the memo is not a firm recommendation, only a preliminary study. He said it was an alternative to another memo he sent proposing increases in coal research.

Russell said copies of his confidential 14-page memo and cover letter were taken from the Interior Department illegally. He says 31 additional pages which turned up in congressional offices purportedly as part of his memo were not compiled by his office and are tantamount to forgery.

The section which Russell says is bogus states that 1,500 federal jobs and 20 research centers in 18 states will be abolished.

The portion he says is genuine proposes that no money be spent by Interior for any research of industry will do it. It also proposes limiting studies to safety, environment and conservation.

Projects which would be eliminated include studies of ways to create gasoline from coal and to speed underground excavation.

"We feel these guidelines are consistent with the President's memorandum of May 25, 1970, which directs each agency to make a vigorous examination of every current program to uncover those which can and should be modified or eliminated," Russell's memo states.

The memo further said "It would close out in fiscal year 1971 all Office of Coal Research pilot plants and other research activities." The OCR's $16.2 million budget for 1971 would be slashed to $100,000 in 1972 "for orderly phase-out of the program."

"A halt in coal research would be destruction," protested Rep. Julia Butler Hansen, D-Wash., chairman of the House appropriations subcommittee on the interior.

Stephen Dunn, president of the National Coal Association, told congressmen that the incentive for the coal industry to finance the research no longer exists because "it has been destroyed by the government's expenditure of great sums to promote atomic power."

And the National Coal Policy Conference wired President Nixon urging him to order Russell to withdraw the memorandum.

In a personal interview, Russell displayed another memorandum he said was sent to the Budget Bureau proposing expansion of OCR in all areas. He said federal regulations prohibited him from letting reporters study that memo.

With Trevino and Nicklaus gone, the tournament lost a lot of its color. U.S. Open champion Tony Jacklin, Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and two-time winner Dick Lotz took the week off. That means five of the top 10 money winners aren't here.

The 33-year-old Massengale, twice a winner in his 10 years as a touring professional, shot an opening round 33-34 with seven birdies and two bogeys. For the second straight week he used a stance he gave up after the 1967 season. "I've gone back to what I used to do, playing the ball a little bit back," said the Texan, who a week ago finished second in the Milwaukee Open. His birdie putts included one of 25 feet and another of 30.

Murphy, 29, said he was going to win the $30,000 first prize for two reasons, to get even for the clubs that were stolen out of his car here last year, and to help pay for a $100,000 house his family will move into at Delray Beach, Fla., in a few weeks.

The 212-pound Murphy shot a 34-33. He had five birdie putts and played the rest in regulation.

Harris, a 29-year-old Oklahoman, came in with a 33-34, including a 30-foot putt for an eagle on the par five 488-yard fifth hole. He had five birdies and two bogeys in the round. Harris finished in a tie for fifth last week in Milwaukee, one of his best finishes since he lost a playoff here in 1968 on a third sudden-death hole to Murphy. His only better finish since was fourth in the Minnesota Classic last year.

Two strokes behind the top three came Bruce Devlin, PGA champion Ray Floyd, Bunky Henry and Gibby Gilbert. Each had a 69 over the par 36-36-72 course. Deane Besman, who won at Milwaukee last week, was among 10 at 70.

Technical Change in School Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A motion was filed in U.S. District Court here Thursday seeking to consolidate a suit filed May 12 with a suit filed last week by the Justice Department to force desegregation of nine Arkansas school districts.

The May 12 suit asked District Court to enjoin the state Education Board from granting money to segregated schools.

The motion Thursday was filed by attorneys for the plaintiffs in the May 12 suit.

The motion asked that pretrial hearing and later hearings be consolidated because it would "materially assist in eliminating delay and burdensome procedures."

The Justice Department suit was against the school districts of Cotton Plant, Hazen, England, Helena-West Helena, Holly Grove, Wabbaseka, Watson Chapel, Bradley and Thornton.

Another approach calls for the House to trade some combination of 11 other amendments the Senate tacked onto the foreign military sales bill for Senate concessions on Cooper-Church.

A third is for the House to accept the Cooper-Church prohibitions against U.S. combat involvement in Cambodia but authorize U.S. aid for allied Asian combat troops in that country.

That compromise was specifically rejected by the Senate, 50 to 45, during the debate.

Most of the compromise talk is from the House conferees. Mansfield indicated the senators are holding firm and commented he saw "no evidence of any budge on either side."

Graybeard Sets Record in Yacht Race

MAUI, Hawaii (AP) — Lol Killan's Vancouver ketch Graybeard came booming into Maui Thursday to set a record elapsed time as the first boat to cross the finish line in the Victoria to Maui, Hawaii, yacht race.

The 73-foot vessel, of Peter Hatfield design and the largest fiber glass yacht in the world, caught race organizers and the reception party by surprise as she logged an amazing 285 miles in the last run to Hawaii, arriving at 3:47 p.m. PDT.

She completed the race, which began here July 1, in 15 days, 47 minutes and 45 seconds. Previous best time of more than 16 days was made by Jim Innis of Vancouver in Long Gone in 1965.

Graybeard's average speed in 15-knot winds was a startling 12 knots as she left second-place Celeste from Vancouver and third place Hasty of Portland, Ore., more than 500 miles astern.

The race is judged on a handicap basis and Graybeard will not necessarily be the over-all winner, although race officials said Thursday she very well could take top honors if the other boats don't hurry.

Cambodia Bill Compromise Hits Snag

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate conferees remained adamant during the first meeting with their House counterparts against any modification of the Cooper-Church amendment to keep U.S. troops out of Cambodia and appeared ready to leave any compromise move to the House members.

Several compromise approaches are being discussed, but Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told newsmen Thursday it looks as though there will be "a drawn-out impasse" over the amendment.

House Foreign Affairs Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., the senior House conferee, said he thinks a compromise can be worked out, "if the senators are agreeable."

Reinforcing Mansfield's pessimism, Morgan added he will not accept the Cooper-Church amendment as now written.

The amendment, an effort to put congressional reins on President Nixon's conduct of the war, would prohibit funds for U.S. troops, advisers, combat air activity or support of Asian troops in Cambodia unless specifically authorized by Congress.

It was passed in the Senate after seven weeks debate and rejected by the House after seven minutes.

The White House actively opposed the amendment before the Senate approved it two weeks ago. The State Department sent a memorandum to the Senate-House conferees at their opening session Wednesday restating the administration's case and urging the amendment's defeat.

"The restraints imposed by the section," the memorandum said, "appear to affect the President's exercise of his lawful responsibilities as commander in chief of the armed forces."

The conferees, split down the middle with six senators backing Cooper-Church and all five House members plus one senator opposed to it, put off the next session until Tuesday to give them time to discuss possible compromises among themselves.

One solution being considered by the House contingent is to knock out the four specific prohibitions and simply make the amendment a ban against sending U.S. troops back into Cambodia, in line with Nixon's expressed policy.

Another approach calls for the House to trade some combination of 11 other amendments the Senate tacked onto the foreign military sales bill for Senate concessions on Cooper-Church.

A third is for the House to accept the Cooper-Church prohibitions against U.S. combat involvement in Cambodia but authorize U.S. aid for allied Asian combat troops in that country.

GETTING INTO HIS WORK, Count Alex von Svboda stands in a hollowed-out redwood tree section in which he has created a bronze seed from which a "seedling" has grown and rays of new growth penetrate the old log. The sculpture rests in front of new Georgia-Pacific building in Portland, Ore. Svboda, an Austrian-born Toronto artist, said he got his concept after visits to commercial forests where "second growth" timber already is maturing.

The Bethel A.M.E. Church membership family will hear one of Hope's Educators Sunday Night at 7:30.

Mrs. Charles Johnson, instructor in Elementary Education in the Hope Public School System, will speak on the general theme, "Making Our Children and Youth Aware of Spiritual Educational Opportunities."

Mrs. Johnson is a graduate of Yerger High School and A.M.N. college in Pine Bluff, with specific concentrations in Elementary Education and has done further technical study in Current Innovations in that area.

At Bethel church, Mrs. Johnson serves on the public relations staff and is the church's chief librarian.

A guest personage, Mrs. George Ross of Garrett Chapel Baptist Church will introduce Mrs. Johnson.

The public is invited to this service, according to Bethel's pastor, Dr. W.G. Wynn.

cause of my previous 12 years in office."

Each candidate gets some shows of support from small groups within his entourage, but only perfunctory applause from what passes for the general audience at picnic ground speeches.

At Mt. Nebo, Faubus got general applause by approaching the microphone to begin his brief speech. No other candidate was applauded simply for walking onto the platform.

Faubus also was the only candidate applauded during the course of his remarks. That burst of hand-clapping came when, while speaking of ways to improve Mt. Nebo State Park, he said: "We can pump water up to the beautiful Mt. Nebo State Park if we can pump it up Peti Jean for Gov. Winthrop Rockett's cattle."

And at the end, Faubus received what clearly was the strongest round of applause.

Those small signs of support, coupled with information he has gathered through his extensive contacts around the state, are factors in his belief, he says, that it is "a possibility" that he could win the Democratic gubernatorial nomination without a runoff.

The possibility is not a probability, though, Faubus said. "With eight candidates running, a number of votes are going to be cast by many men's relatives and friends and acquaintances who, as would be expected, will vote for the candidate to which they are a relative or friend or acquaintance."

Since such voting patterns will spread the vote through the roster of candidates, the prospect of a runoff increases.

"But many of these people have told me that they will come back to me once their initial obligation is over and I am in the runoff," Faubus said.

Peace Food Diverted to War, Charge

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's Vietnamization policy more than tripled the amount of U.S. military aid given to Saigon last year under the Food for Peace program.

Nearly $106 million in food aid money was channeled into South Vietnam military spending last year, according to a White House report.

"The increase in the size of Vietnamese armed forces during the past year and the on-going Vietnamization of the war have given special importance to this budget support," the report said.

Members of Congress have had access to the report, sent to them by President Nixon, for several weeks.

The military aid provided South Vietnam under Food for Peace involves the sale of U.S. farm commodities in return for that country's currency.

Commonly, about 80 per cent is kicked back to the Saigon government in direct grants for military spending, with the balance retained for use by U.S. forces in South Vietnam.

Since Congress approved the aid program in 1954—officially titled the "Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act"—South Vietnam has received $520.7 million in military aid money through the food program.

About two-thirds of the total was granted in the past four years, according to government records.

The high point was in 1968 during the Johnson administration when $145.6 million was given to South Vietnam's military operation. The annual amount dwindled in 1967 and 1968 but new agreements, negotiated last year by the U.S. State Department, boosted the 1969 grants to $105.8 million.

According to a provision in the 1954 act, the United States can specify such grants for the "common defense" of the country receiving the commodities. In the case of South Vietnam the products have mostly involved rice, wheat, cotton, corn, dairy products and tobacco.

Virtually all the military aid funds are parceled out by the Agency for International Development and the Defense Department.

About $1.5 billion in "common defense" funds have been handed out to various countries over the past 15 years.

Korea was a major recipient but last year was cut back to about $32 million. The Korean total is nearly $565 million since the program began.

Korea and South Vietnam have accounted for more than two-thirds of the "common defense" grants over the years.

When queried, government officials pointed out the military aid funds were a small part of the over-all $18.6 billion in U.S. farm products exported under Food for Peace since 1954.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The 3,900-mile-long Amazon River carries about one-fifth of the fresh water discharged by rivers into the seas of the world. The World Almanac notes that the Amazon has a volume of water 11 times greater than the Mississippi River and drains almost half of the South American continent.

This is not a standard red society eye live in just try to find a washer to fit that oldball faucet in the basement.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Since arthritis is a chronic disease, most victims need a helpful program of home treatment. Even the best of these will not cure the disease but it can add a great deal to the victim's comfort. A good home care program aids in the maintenance of a good posture, allowance for adequate rest and the provision of graduated exercises to prevent permanent stiffening of the involved joints.

Much can also be done to make life easier for arthritis through the use of self-help devices. All this is covered in "Home Care Programs in Arthritis," available from the Arthritis Foundation, 1212 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10036. While you are about it, ask for their leaflet, "The Diet and Arthritis."

Q—What causes ulcerative colitis? Is it contagious? What is the best diet for it? Is there any other treatment for it? Does it turn into cancer if not treated?

A—The cause is now believed to be a deficiency of one or more of the intestinal digestive enzymes. Allergy to certain pollens appears to be a factor in some cases. It is not contagious.

Skillful treatment is required. Great care must be taken to avoid all roughage (even cooked vegetables and fruit) and other intestinal irritants. This necessitates taking vitamin supplements. About 20 per cent of the victims do better when milk and milk products are omitted from their diet.

Adequate rest is an essential part of the treatment. One authority advocates inducing sleep in the hospital for 14 days. Alcohol and tobacco must be avoided. Drugs of the cortisone type are given, preferably on alternate days, to combat the inflammation. Other drugs are given to check the diarrhea and to reduce nervous tension. Every effort must be made to avoid infections and, when they do occur, prompt treatment with antibiotics is necessary. In untreated cases and in some who do not respond well to treatment there is an increased risk of cancer of the colon.

AS AMENDED, FOR THE PURPOSE OF FURNISHING THE PERMANENT FINANCING OF THE COST OF SECURING AND DEVELOPING INDUSTRY (THE PARTICULAR INDUSTRIAL PROJECT IS DESCRIBED IN THE ORDINANCE); PRESCRIBING OTHER MATTERS RELATING THERETO; AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS the existing industrial plant operated by Meyer's Bakery of Little Rock, Inc., an Arkansas corporation (called "Meyer") is inadequate and there is an immediate need for the expansion thereof which will result in the preserving of existing employment and the adding of additional employment and additional payrolls, all in the best interests of the City of Hope, Arkansas (the "City") and its citizens and inhabitants and all in furtherance of the public purposes embodied in Act No. 9 of the First Extraordinary Session of the Sixty-Second General Assembly of the State of Arkansas, approved January 21, 1960, as amended (Act No. 9); and

WHEREAS after a study of all aspects of the matter, it has been determined that the most feasible way to accomplish the industrial expansion and realize the public benefits therefrom is for the City to construct an addition to the industrial plant and to acquire and install machinery and equipment (the "Project"), and to issue Industrial Development Revenue Bonds under Act No. 9 in the principal amount of not to exceed Two Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($250,000) to finance Project costs, pay expenses and make expenditures in connection therewith, pay the expenses of authorizing and issuing bonds and make any needed provision for interest during construction; and

WHEREAS the purpose of this Ordinance is to submit the question of the issuance of the bonds under Act No. 9 to the electors of the City at the special election called for that purpose: NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of Directors of the City of Hope, Arkansas:

Section 1. That a special election be, and the same is hereby, called to be held in the City on the 23 day of June, 1970, at which election there will be submitted to the electors of the City the question of issuing Industrial Development Revenue Bonds under Act No. 9 in an amount not to exceed Two Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($250,000) for the purpose of furnishing the permanent financing of the cost of securing and developing industry (the particular industrial project is described above). The bonds will be dated, will bear interest at the rate or rates, with the interest payable on such dates, the bonds will mature on such date or dates, the bonds will be subject to redemption prior to maturity in such manner and upon such terms, and the bonds will be issued at one time or in series from time to time, all as the Board of Directors shall subsequently determine and specify in the Ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

Section 2. That the question shall be placed on the ballot for the special election in substantially the following form:

Vote on measure by placing an "X" in the square above the measure either for or against:

FOR the issuance of Industrial Development Revenue Bonds by the City of Hope, Arkansas, in the aggregate principal amount of not to exceed $250,000.

AGAINST the issuance of Industrial Development Revenue Bonds by the City of Hope, Arkansas, in the aggregate principal amount of not to exceed $250,000.

It is proposed to issue City of Hope, Arkansas (the "City") Industrial Development Revenue Bonds (the "bonds") under Act No. 9 of the First Extraordinary Session of the Sixty-Second General Assembly of the State of Arkansas, approved January 21, 1960, as amended, in the aggregate principal amount of not to exceed $250,000 for the purpose of furnishing the permanent financing of the cost of securing and developing industry. The bonds will be dated, will bear interest at such rate or rates, interest will be payable on such dates, the bonds will mature on such date or dates, the bonds will be subject to redemption prior to maturity in such manner and upon such terms, and the bonds will be issued at one time or in series from time to time, all as the Board of Directors shall subsequently determine and specify in the Ordinance authorizing their issuance. The proposed Industrial Project will consist of the construction of an addition to the industrial plant and the acquisition and installation of machinery and equipment therein (the "Project"), paying the expenses of authorizing and issuing bonds and making any needed provision for interest during construction. The Project will be leased to Meyer's Bakery of Little Rock, Inc., an Arkansas corporation (called "Meyer"), for lease rentals sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds. All obligations of Meyer will be unconditionally guaranteed by Meyer's Bakeries, Inc. The bonds will not be general obligations of the City, but will be special obligations payable solely from Project revenues, including particularly lease rentals from the Lease Agreement with Meyer, which will be specifically pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and the bonds will be secured by a lien on and security interest in the Project.

GIVEN under my hand and seal this 15 day of May, 1970.

Sally Andrews

Section 3. That the election shall be held and conducted and the vote canvassed and the results declared under the law and in the manner provided for municipal elections, so far as the same may be applicable, and the Mayor shall give notice of such election by an advertisement published once a week for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper having a bona fide circulation in the City, with the last publication to be not less than ten days prior to the date of the election, and only qualified electors of the City shall have the right to vote at the election on the question.

Section 4. That the results of the election shall be proclaimed by the Mayor, and his proclamation shall be published one time in a newspaper having a bona fide circulation in the City, which proclamation shall advise that the results as proclaimed shall be conclusive unless attacked in the courts within thirty days after the date of such proclamation.

Section 5. That a copy of this Ordinance shall be furnished the Hempstead County Board of Election Commissioners so that the necessary election officials and supplies may be provided.

Section 6. That there is hereby found and declared to be an immediate need for the securing and developing of industry within and near the City in order to provide employment, provide increased payrolls, alleviate unemployment and provide other public benefits incidental to the securing and developing of industry. In furtherance of these public purposes, it is hereby found and declared that the developing of the particular industrial project described in this Ordinance can be feasibly and expeditiously accomplished only by the issuance of the above described bonds. It is, therefore, declared that an emergency exists and this Ordinance being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, safety and welfare shall be in force and take effect immediately upon and after its passage.

PASSED: MAY 12, 1970.

APPROVED:
FRANK DOUGLAS
Mayor

ATTEST:
Sally Andrews
City Clerk

CERTIFICATE

I, the undersigned, City Clerk of Hope, Arkansas, hereby certify that the foregoing pages numbered 1 to 4, inclusive, are a true and correct copy of an ordinance passed at a regular session of the Board of Directors of the City of Hope, Arkansas, held at the regular meeting place of the Board in the City at 7:00 p.m. and that the ordinance is of record in Ordinance Record Book 2, page 238, now in my possession.

GIVEN under my hand and seal this 15 day of May, 1970.

STRENGTHEN YOUR FAITH

Through Regular Church Worship

How far are YOU willing to go? A little way? Half way? Completely around the world??? Have YOU ever heard His command, "Go ye into all the world...?" Well, what are you doing about it? Have you answered that call? This is the moment of decision. It is a personal decision, a positive act of the will. It must be performed in the lonely solitude of your soul, in the presence of its Maker. Then, Choose YE this day. Decide right now just how far YOU are ready to go for Him. Gideon said, "As for me and my house, if Jesus Christ be a man and only a man, I will cleave to Him; and if He be God, I will follow Him through Heaven and Hell, the Earth, and Sea, and Air!" How far will you go?

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU
 Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with good news, challenged, disciplined, to the church, the ministerial and church people can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we must remember that the church of our choice must be a remnant for good. Be a regular CHURCH GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Basic Art Taught in H.H.S. This Summer

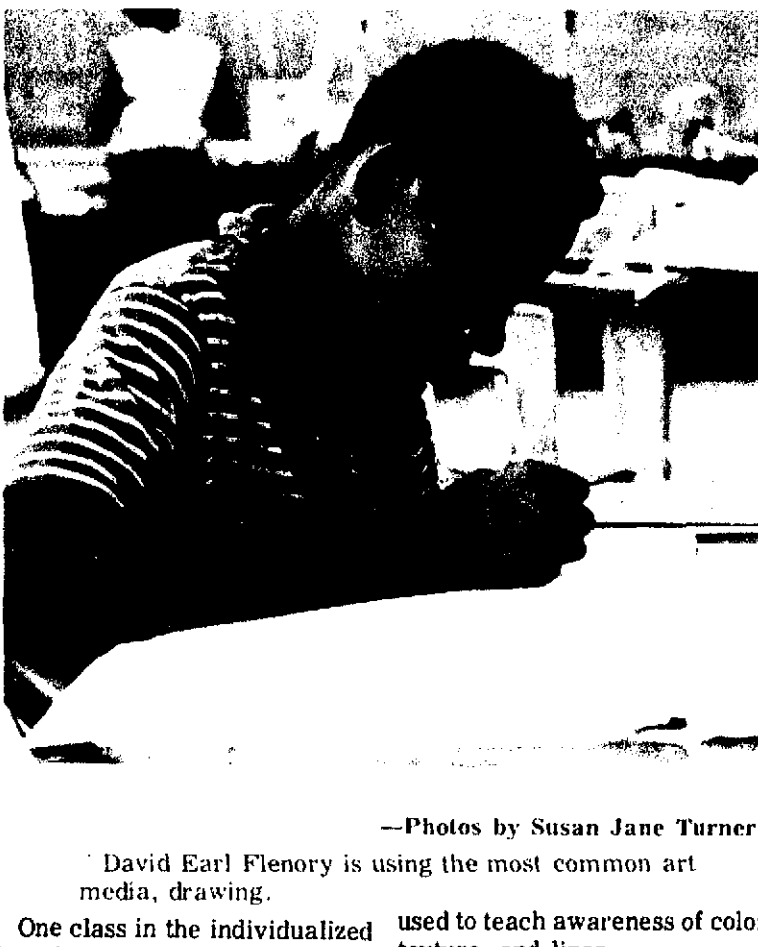

Kim Kawakami browses in the art library for possible ideas for an individual art project.

Lance Beard is working on a horse turned dragon. The finished creature was painted brown with tempera paint.

Gwen Foster, Robin Jordan, Floyd Whitley are preparing the first layers for papier mache.

David Earl Flenory is using the most common art media, drawing.

One class in the individualized learning program at Hope High School this summer is basic art being taught by Miss Susan Jane Turner, a recent Hendrix College graduate.

The art students have tried everything from linoleum and potato prints to tie dying and paper mosaics. These have been used to teach awareness of color, texture, and lines.

The final week which ends July 24 will be spent by each student exploring one art media on his own with guidance.

An exhibit of the work of these summer students is set up at Anderson-Frazier Insurance Agency.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gloria Swanson spoke heatedly, and not merely because she was calling from 120-degree Palm Springs.

"It's a dry heat—don't mind it at all," she remarked. "This desert climate is heaven. All those minerals in the rocks; you can feel them. And no smog. Oh, a little crept in the other day. But otherwise the air has been clean."

The longtime star, who is an advocate of clean air, food and minds, telephoned because she was upset about what she said were false reports concerning her pullout as replacement for Katharine Hepburn in the New York musical "Coco."

During the conversation, she also disclosed that she plans to abandon life in New York City, which has been her home for 30 years. The reason: New York has become unlivable.

Broadway had buzzed with reports that Miss Swanson was going to be Miss Hepburn's replacement after next month. Then all of a sudden Danielle Darrieux was announced as the new Coco, and a number of columns hinted that Miss Swanson's demands were too rich for producer Freddie Bronson and author Alan Jay Lerner.

"Absolutely untrue," remarked Miss Swanson. "I only wanted what Katie had received. Nothing more, nothing less. That wasn't too much to ask, was it?"

She detailed the lengthy negotiations and said, "I had a good rapport with Alan Lerner, even though he sometimes forgets when he makes appointments. Freddie Bronson was the same. I always came late literally when I make them."

The musical demands didn't faze her—"I sang in nearly all my talks, with the exception of 'Sunset Boulevard.'" She had placed herself in the hands of longtime vocal coach Kay Thompson, who had her walking 26 blocks daily to build up her stamina—hardly necessary, since Miss Swanson goes 60 miles an hour all day.

She saw "Coco" three times and was ready to sign the contract, "and then they started getting chintzy about the money situation."

Auto Worker Is Held in Plant Death

DETROIT (AP) — An auto worker said by a union official that he has resented his replacement on a job assignment by a colleague with less seniority was held for questioning today in the fatal shooting of three men in the Chrysler Corp. axle plant.

James Johnson, 35, who had been suspended earlier in the day for insubordination, was arrested after two foremen and a production worker were shot down Wednesday with an M-1 carbine.

Johnny Moffett, chief steward of United Auto Workers union Local 931, said he saw the man shoot one person and ran to him saying "I was a union representative—I wanted to help him, not to hurt him."

Moffett said the man "pointed the gun at me and pulled the trigger" but that there was only a click because the weapon apparently was empty. Moffett said the man told him he was angry because a man with less time on the payroll had taken over his work assignment.

The union official said he escorted the gunman to a gate and turned him over to a company guard.

Safe Boat-Handling Simply Means Use of Common Sense

By LOU OBERSTE

Travel Director State Parks Recreation and Travel Commission

Boating on a navigable waterway, such as the Arkansas River Project, presents a few novel challenges to the skipper accustomed to the slack waters of normal lakes. The pilot of the pleasure craft must give constant attention to currents, navigation markers and the "Rules of the Road" when maneuvering through the locks and channels of the developed Arkansas River.

Constant currents of between 7 to 15 miles per hour are present in the main stream of the river channel. These currents increase upstream and downstream from the locks and dams. Warning signs posted on the dams and along the shores, tell of these hazards. Attention to these warnings will keep you out of trouble and help you enjoy a safe vacation on the river.

The wider stretches of the river impoundments tend to reduce the effect of the current and afford the best areas for skiing, sailing and other water-associated sports.

Navigation aids have been placed along the channel to mark the safe passage for both commercial and pleasure craft moving on the river. Red, cone-shaped buoys called NUNS mark the left side of the channel when you move downstream; and black, flat-topped buoys called CANS mark the right limits. Boaters should always stay within the confines of these markers, or risk the possibility of encountering underwater obstacles such as rocks and pile dikes, constructed as part of the bank stabilization program. When it is necessary to move outside of the marked channel the pilot should use reduced speed and pay constant attention to eddies, ripples and swirls that could indicate unseen obstructions.

Special purpose buoys outside the main channel are used to indicate controlled or restricted areas. Always observe the instructions given on these orange and white markers.

Traffic regulations "The Rules of the Road" on water, are much older than similar regulations on land. These rules are based on common sense and the courteous operation of the boat. The safety and welfare of both craft and passengers require that a boat be operated at reasonable speeds and under complete control at all times.

The U.S. Coast Guard has jurisdiction and enforcement of Federal laws on all navigable waterways. On Dardanelle Reservoir the Game and Fish Enforcement Officers are deputized to enforce laws governing reckless or negligent boat operators. Coast Guard patrol boats may overtake and board any vessel operating on the waterway to inspect for proper registration, required life saving and safety equipment, or to enforce the Rules of the Road.

Safe and sane seamanship is the result of observing these rules and should not be considered as restrictions to your vacation fun, but rather the pride of navigating skillfully on the inland waterways should be one of the greatest satisfactions of boating pleasure.

TV Opera Gets Mixed Results

NEW YORK (AP) — Rolf Liebermann, general director of the Hamburg State Opera, says showing opera on television in Germany has brought mixed results at opera houses.

"After a production is shown on national television, if it is a good production, people in larger cities want to see the opera again and box office goes up," Liebermann said recently. "But in the provinces, box office goes down."

Duplicate bridge has become a form of occupational therapy in several prisons. It is supposed to be quite helpful in rehabilitation, but we don't believe it is unmixed help to the criminal mind.

South was an expert who had been persuaded to play in one of these prison sessions.

West cashed the king and ace of hearts and continued with the jack, since his partner had echoed to show a doubleton.

South ruffed with dummy's queen of trumps and promptly led the jack of clubs. East ducked! Almost any player would in that spot. South went right up with his king. The only risk South had taken when he played the club was that West might hold a singleton. In that case, East could rise with the ace and give his partner a club ruff. South had no problem about the location of the club ace. West would not have passed as dealer with a six-card suit to the ace-king-jack and a side ace.

Poor East looked at South and remarked reproachfully, "There are people here for stealing less than that trick."

High Insurance Boomerangs on Car Makers

Time was when an automobile bumper was utilitarian instead of decorative—and saved you many a dollar by averting damage at either end of the vehicle.

I remember when the decorative wrap-around bumper first came into style. After taking football pictures at the local stadium I accidentally backed a new car into one of the big wooden poles carrying the field lights—and while the car escaped damage the impact put a big knot in the rear bumper, and I had to replace it. The late Barney Hamm, car dealer, agreed with me they weren't making bumpers as they used to.

Bumpers, furthermore, are set too close to protect the silly-looking chrome grills which clutter up all today's standard-size vehicles—and the result is that rates on collision insurance are increasing year by year.

A revolt is under way—not from car owners, but from the insurance companies which resent the high-cost image the motor makers are giving the underwriters.

This morning's Wall Street Journal reports that insurance men are spelling out their complaint against the car makers before an investigating subcommittee of the U. S. Senate.

The same story says that Detroit is having second thoughts on present model styling and in all probability will think more about repair costs in the future.

Committee Is Blocking Filings

—Say Democrats

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A group of Pulaski County Democrats, headed by Roger Mears, 44, a Little Rock insurance agent, charged Thursday that the Old Guard faction of the Pulaski County Democratic Committee is trying to prevent "good Democrats" from filing for positions on the committee.

Mears said that Bill Maxwell, executive secretary of the committee, had notified Chad Kumpe, 30, of Little Rock that he was not eligible to run for a position on the committee because he was a justice of the peace.

Mears said the Kumpe had resigned as a justice and had informed Maxwell of the action.

Maxwell confirmed that there were "six or seven others" who might be challenged as candidates.

Spa Project Halted by Lake Fouling

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Ish Beam, chairman of the Hot Springs Parks and Recreation Commission, said Thursday that sewage pollution problems in Lake Hamilton will have to be resolved before Electric Island can be developed into a recreation area or theme park.

The state Health Department has said that both Lake Hamilton and Lake Catherine near Hot Springs are being polluted by the city's sewer system.

The state Pollution Control Commission has ordered the city to correct the situation. Engineers are developing plans to renovate the system.

Beam said the Parks Commission, which was created in July 1968 to oversee the recreational development of the 100-acre island, would meet soon with outdoor recreation consultants to explore the island's possibilities.

The land was given to the city by Arkansas Power & Light Co. in 1968 for development as a recreational area.

High Court Pressured on Integration

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court is under new pressure for a special summer session on the legality of neighborhood desegregation plans permitting all-white and all-black schools in large cities.

The latest plea came from the Little Rock, Ark., school board with a warning that conflicting decisions by federal appeals courts would produce chaos and confusion unless the Supreme Court settles the issue before school bells ring in September.

The appeal for a special summer session and validation of the neighborhood school concept declared there would always be some "racially identifiable" schools unless children were bused several miles.

The reason, the board said, is "the tendency of the people in this country, North, South, East or West, to reside in those areas of a city populated by other citizens of their race."

The board appealed from a 5-2 decision by the U. S. Court of Appeals in St. Louis that disapproved a student assignment plan based primarily on assigning children to schools in their neighborhood.

The majority, which included Harry A. Blackmun, now a Supreme Court justice, said the geographical zones tended to perpetuate rather than eliminate segregation.

Since most of Little Rock's Negroes live in the eastern part of the city the appeals court suggested one means of attaining fuller integration would be "strip-zoning"—drawing attendance zones horizontally across the city.

The school board conceded that 10 schools in the district have no Negro students and that blacks comprise less than 15 percent of the enrollment in 10 other schools.

A more proportional balance, the board said, would require forced busing of children from six to eight miles at an annual cost of about $500,000.

Questioning whether the Constitution requires compulsory busing, the board quoted President Nixon's endorsement of the neighborhood school system and his disapproval of "transportation of pupils beyond normal geographic school zones for the purpose of achieving racial balance."

Last spring the Charlotte-Mecklenburg County, N.C., school board and the NAACP legal defense and Educational Fund asked the court to rule on these issues even if it would mean a summer session.

The Cincinnati chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People asked, meanwhile, for a ruling on school segregation in the North that results from neighborhood residential patterns.

Pavement Plato Finds Most Time Is Spent in Making Decisions

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

No wonder people get tired of making decisions in this world. Practically every moment of their lives seems to be spent in choosing between one thing or another. Every situation they confront requires them to decide between alternatives.

From birth to the tomb they are ceaselessly caught on the twin horns of a dilemma. By the time their final summons comes they are numb and worn out from choosing between—

Heads or tails.
Up or down.
Here or there.
Back or forth.
Rain or shine.
Hot or cold.
Poor or rich.
Feast or famine.
War or peace.
Hum or her.

BILL MOORE

JUSTIN CALDWELL

Two Hope boys have joined The Star staff as Summer trainees, Bill Moore, left, and Justin Caldwell.

Moore, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Moore, is training for the Summer on offset printing photography under direction of Gene Allen, head cameraman. Moore also is perfecting technique in loading and developing and printing hand-camera film. When he returns to Hope High School as a Junior in September he will write high school sports part-time for The Star, succeeding Ralph Routon who has graduated.

Caldwell, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Caldwell, is a 1970 Hope High School graduate who will enter the University of Arkansas in September. He is training in writing news stories and preparing headlines, beginning with sports headlines. Caldwell had two years student work while in Hope High School, was editor-in-chief of the Bobcat, school year-book, and was awarded a journalism scholarship by the Arkansas Press Association.

Egypt Gets Red Version U.S. Missile

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. intelligence has reported the appearance in Egypt of an anti-aircraft missile similar to the U.S. Redeye, which is designed to knock down low-flying airplanes by homing in on their engines.

Such a heat-seeking missile could further complicate the problems of Israeli pilots, already facing more effective high-altitude, radar-guided SAM-2 missiles and SAM-3 batteries.

Presumably, the heat-seekers were supplied to the Egyptians by the Russians, as were the

FFA Devises Way to Foil Air Pirates

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Administration says its system to foil would-be sky pirates before they get off the ground has proved out in field tests and is now suitable for widespread airlines use.

Dr. John T. Dailey, the FAA's chief psychologist, told the Airline Passenger Association conference Thursday that 10 months operational experience has shown the federally developed program is practical and effective in reducing the number of hijackings.

"We hope all the airlines will come into the program," Dailey said, "but we don't want them to stampede in overnight because that would interfere with its effectiveness."

"We need time for training and for systematic introduction," he explained. "But we are all tooled up, and will aim toward total coverage."

Eastern Airlines, long a prime target for hijackings to Cuba, was the first to use the system and now has a hijack rate well below that of other airlines, Dailey said.

Moreover, he pointed out, the hijack menace has declined in the United States since the deterrent system came into use and increased in other countries with no such system.

The deterrent system consists of a behavior profile to enable employees to spot potential hijackers during check-in and magnetometers to detect concealed firearms and knives.

Besides Eastern, Pan American, Trans World and Continental currently employ the deterrent system at various airports.

New Orleans International airport this week became the first to install the system for an entire airport. "That is the best way to do it," Dailey said.

Dailey said that out of 1.5 million passengers screened by the system to date, only a few dozen have been denied passage.

1 Girl Slain, 2nd Wounded in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — An 18-year-old girl attending a convention was found stabbed to death early today in a downtown hotel, and a roommate was seriously wounded.

Police said Evelyn Okubo, 18, of Stockton, Calif., was found dead in the bathtub of her room at the Palmer House with her hands and feet tied behind her. The young woman's throat had been slashed and she had been stabbed in the abdomen, officers said.

The second girl, Carol Yamada, 17, also of Stockton, was rushed to Henrotin Hospital where she was reported in poor condition. Police said her throat also had been slashed, and she also was found bound hand and foot.

The victims were discovered by another roommate, Patti E. Iwataki, 18, of San Jose, Calif., when she returned to their room on the seventh floor of the hotel after visiting friends elsewhere in the building.

All three girls, members of the Junior Japanese-American Citizens League, were in Chicago attending the 21st biennial National Japanese-American Citizens League convention at the hotel.

Lt. Walter Meyers of the central district police said Miss Okubo had been raped.

Officers said the room was "torn apart and splattered with blood," indicating the girls may have struggled with their assailant before being bound and stabbed.

A note was found in the room, possibly left by the attacker, police said, but they declined to release its contents.

Murder Suspect Acquitted

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Paul Roudabush, 21, of Hazel Valley (Washington County) was found innocent here Thursday of second-degree murder in connection with the Oct. 31, 1969, shooting death of Sede Jones, 48, also of Hazel Valley.

A Circuit Court jury deliberated about seven hours before returning the verdict.

Officers said the shooting, which occurred at Roudabush's home, followed a dispute between the two over the title to a car Jones had traded to Roudabush.

W. B. Putman of Fayetteville, Roudabush's attorney, had contended the shooting was in self defense.

The trial began Wednesday.

Federal Road Money Is 'Short'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Transportation announced Wednesday that Arkansas had been allocated $10.2 million in federal highway funds for the July-September quarter.

Highway Director Ward Goodman said the figure was about $2.5 million less than had been expected.

Goodman said that about $3 million of the July-September allocation was paid to the state last quarter to fund several highway projects. He said the actual amount the state would receive this quarter is about $7.2 million.

A cut by the federal Budget Bureau in the highway allocation was responsible for the decrease, Goodman said.

Minor Collision Is Investigated

City police reported that Thursday at 3:15 p.m. a car driven by Mary Dell Cox hit an illegally-parked car owned by Don A. Robertson. Only minor damage resulted from the accident which happened on W. Second Street. Officer Halton investigated and no charges were filed.

Prince Charley Takes Stairs on Way Down Washington Monument

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Visiting Prince Charles viewed the nation's capital by moonlight on his first day in the United States and left all of his touring party but a game David Eisenhower behind to walk down 888 steps inside the Washington Monument.

David later admitted it was "heavy going at first," while the ladies—including Princess Anne, Julie Eisenhower and Tricia Nixon—had hoped for an elevator down.

"We were chicken," Julie explained laughingly of the Thursday night experience.

The prince also occupied the spotlight earlier in the busy day at Camp David, Md. His shooting prowess dazzled the Nixon family and a skeet range operator when he scored three doubles in a row during a shooting exhibition.

The royal youngsters and President Nixon's daughters and son-in-law appeared to be getting along well at the outset of the three-day private visit of the prince and princess—their first to the United States.

They were applauded by a crowd of about a thousand gathered at the steps of the Lincoln Memorial when they stopped there during an hour-long night tour by presidential limousine.

Blonde Princess Anne surprised observers by appearing to be aloof and unsmiling much of the time she was publicly visible.

President Nixon gave the 21-year-old Prince of Wales, heir to the British throne, and his 19-year-old sister, a royal welcome with fanfares by the Army herald trumpets, "Rule Britannia" played by the Marine Band, and a reported turnout of 5,618 White House staff families, tourists and diplomats checked onto the south lawn in 90-degree heat.

He told the royal guests, "We want you to feel very much at home in your brief stay. We

Education Bill May Face Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise $4.4 billion education appropriation bill may face a presidential veto if it reaches the White House as it left the House.

There were hints President Nixon would veto the bill because of additions that have raised it $435 million above what he had requested. Rep. Robert H. Michel, R-Ill., a member of the House Appropriations Committee, expressed "some grave misgivings" about the bill's fate at the White House.

The measure is due for Senate consideration first. The Senate previously had added $800 million to the President's initial request.

The House voted the measure through Thursday 357 to 30 after cutting in half a Senate-added emergency desegregation fund of $150 million. The money would go to aid school districts implementing desegregation plans.

The compromise provides $551 for aid to schools where pupil enrollment is increased. By federal activities, $167.7 million for educational grants to college students and $243 million for direct loans to college students.

Faubus Gets Public's Ear on Stump

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

On the campaign trail, out with the chiggers and ticks of the political stump, the audiences chatter and gadabout until the appearance of one man: Orval Eugene Faubus.

No one seems quite sure what it means — whether respect, or merely curiosity, or something thoroughly inconsequential.

But they listen to Faubus. At Portia on July 4, or at Mt. Nebo last Wednesday, a hubbub — apparently a sign of disinterest — is noisily evident in the audiences until Faubus speaks.

The attentive stillness that envelopes an audience when he steps to the platform may mean nothing at all, except perhaps wary concern, since most stump speech listeners are already allied and often related to the 12 other gubernatorial candidates.

Faubus' explanation is simple: "I don't really know, unless they want to hear what I have to say and plans I have to make improvements and be-

Distribution of Bomb Materials Is Nationwide, Probers Learn

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators investigating the nation's recent wave of politically-motivated bombings have been told bomb-making instructions are circulating widely, even in junior high schools.

The chief of New York City's police bomb squad told senators Thursday bomb-making plans appear in underground newspapers, magazines and leaflets distributed throughout the city, especially among college, high school and, recently, junior high school students.

Lt. Kenneth O'Neil told the Senate's investigations subcommittee the publications range from crude mimeograph flyers to highly sophisticated manuals for constructing explosive devices.

After the devastating explosion last spring which destroyed an apparent bomb factory in a Greenwich Village townhouse, he said, leaflets circulated in New York warning those who might be tempted not to risk dangerous do-it-yourself bomb production. Making bombs, the anonymous leaflet said, should be left to those familiar with chemistry and laboratory techniques.

One of the most popular books in circulation on high explosives is the Swiss army manual entitled "Total Resistance," a guerrilla warfare guide that includes practical instructions on constructing bombs and incendiary devices, O'Neil said.

Exhibiting a small arsenal of pipe bombs he said are commonly filled with black powder and dynamite bombs linked to alarm clocks, O'Neil gave the senators his own short course in bomb-making—including diagrams and photographs of bomb damage.

Earlier, New York's top policeman, Commissioner Howard Leary, told the panel bombings have multiplied suddenly and menacingly in the past 18 months.

"We can say the present crop of explosive devices, in the main, represent distorted petitions for redress of grievance," Leary said after describing the blast that caused extensive destruction to his own police headquarters last June 9th.

Asked to explain the temper of those who resort to bombs to make social and political protest, Leary said shortly: "It all begins with bad manners."

He urged congressional adoption of a series of new federal laws, including one providing for the inclusion of indestructible bits of coded metal inside explosives to enable police to quickly trace their origin.

Parcel Post Rates to Go Up 15.2%

WASHINGTON (AP) — Increases averaging 15.2 per cent have been approved for fourth class parcel post by the Interstate Commerce Commission, but it withheld decision on a plan to charge 35 cents extra for hard-to-handle packages.

The ICC said the rates could go into effect today, but the Post Office declared after Thursday's decision it would wait to use the authority until after consulting with parcel post users. This would allow the users time to raise rates. A spokesman had no idea how long such action might take.

The bulky package surcharge was not scheduled to take effect until April 1, 1971.

The Post Office Department had estimated the rate increase would boost parcel post revenues $123 million, an amount Postmaster General Winton M. Blount said would bring the service to a break-even point for fourth-class mail.

Rates for fourth-class mail, unlike other postage rates, are determined by the ICC not the Congress.

Mail order houses are expected to be hit hardest by the new rates, the spokesman said.

The new scale would increase the price of mailing a small package locally from 50 to 60 cents. Sending an eight-pound package coast-to-coast would cost $2.60 compared with the present $2.15.

Fourth-class mail consists of merchandise or printed matter over a pound in weight. Similar matter under a pound goes as third-class mail.

Absentees Must Name Their Party

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Voters applying for absentee ballots for primary elections should tell the county clerk whether they want to vote in the Democratic primary or the Republican primary.

Thomas A. Glaze, chairman of the Election Laws Institute, said Thursday that the Arkansas Election Code does not require the voter to designate the primary in which he wants to vote, but those who give no indication may receive a ballot for the primary in which they do not wish to vote.

The Democratic and Republican preferential primaries will be held Aug. 25 and the general primary of each party is set for Aug. 8.

"If the voter fails to designate the primary in which he wishes to vote, then it is left to the discretion of the county clerk which party's ballot to send," he said.

Fair and Warm New Forecast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fair and warm weather is expected across the state for most of the weekend with widely scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers a possibility.

Temperatures will continue to range from the high 90s to the low 70s.

Partly cloudy skies and warm temperatures prevailed over the Arkansas area today.

Early morning temperatures today ranged from the upper 60s and low 70s in the northwest to the low to mid 70s in the central and south portions of the state.

Afternoon highs Thursday ranged from 95 at Texarkana to 86 at Jonesboro.

A few thundershowers appear possible Friday night over southern sections of the state where the air mass is a little more moist, but little or no rain is expected in other sections.

Overnight lows ranged from 73 at El Dorado to 67 at Fayetteville.
